Copyright Professionals Discuss Fair Dealing

Fair dealing allows for certain uses of copyrighted works without requiring permission or payment, helping define user rights that support both engagement with existing works and the creation of new content.

Join copyright professionals for a panel presentation and discussion about this critical part of our system of intellectual property governance. Bring your questions!

Speakers:

- Adrian Sheppard, Director, Copyright Office, University of Alberta
- Meera Nair, Copyright Officer, NAIT
- Scott Day, Copyright Specialist, MacEwan University
- Samantha Kernahan, Partner, McLennan Ross LLP
