

Interprofessional Education

Speech Language Pathologists & Teachers (2012 - 2018)

- Developed to promote collaboration between student SLPs and teachers (Suleman, 2012)
- Interactive seminar and completion of a case study
- Used to develop competencies of effective collaboration
- Unique models, benefits and challenges of collaboration in schools
- Extensive analysis of workshop outcomes (Suleman et al. 2013; Suleman et al. 2014)

Blended Learning (2018)

- Integrating online learner-led activities with traditional facilitator-led learning
- Supplementing instruction with online activities enhances learning
- Ability to personalize education to meet individual student needs
- eClass site provided students access to readings and resources prior to workshop
- Video highlighted collaboration between speech language pathologists and teachers in several work settings

Animation and Video (2018)

- Incorporating video into higher education is an effective pedagogical tool if used effectively
- Use of video during instructional time increases student interest and engagement
- Helps make information more salient for learners, as well as links instructional content to 'real word' contexts and scenarios
- Changed the paper-based case study into more engaging format (i.e., animation video)
- Creation of animation using Go Animate for Schools

Face-to-Face Workshop Session (2018)

View our Case Study Animation

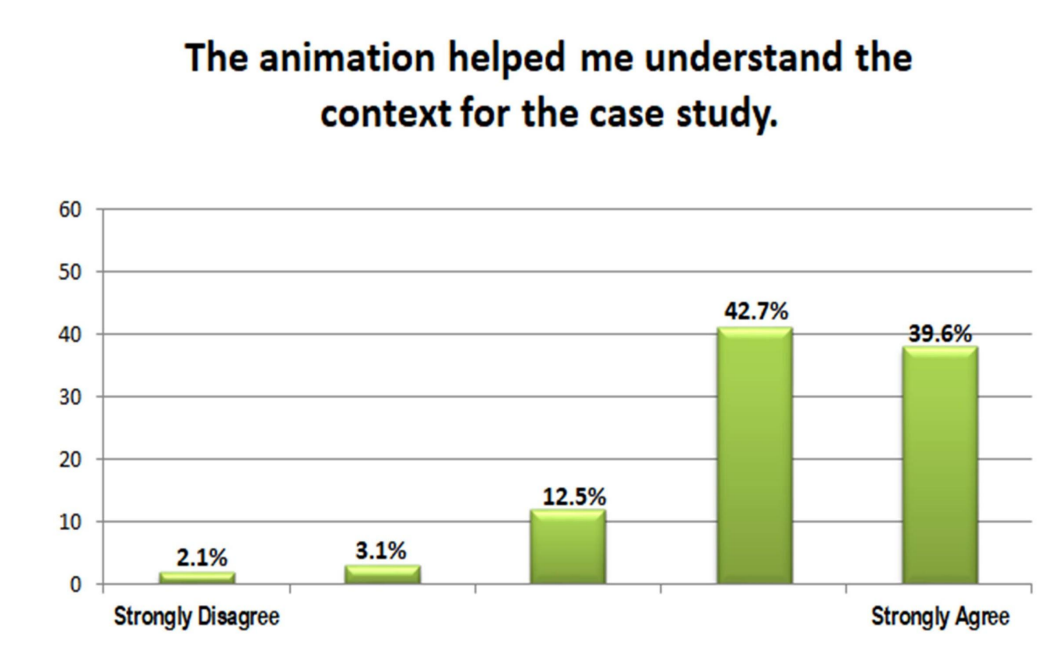

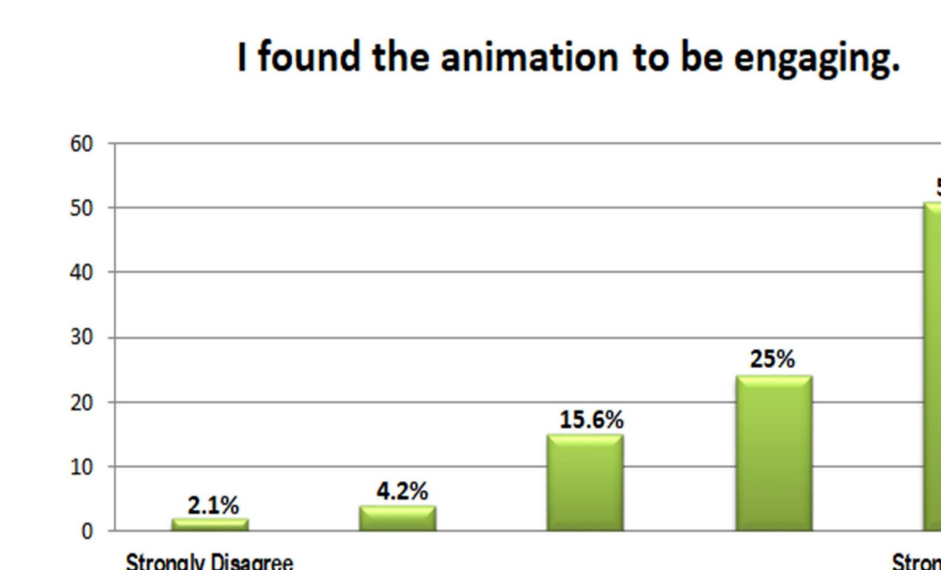

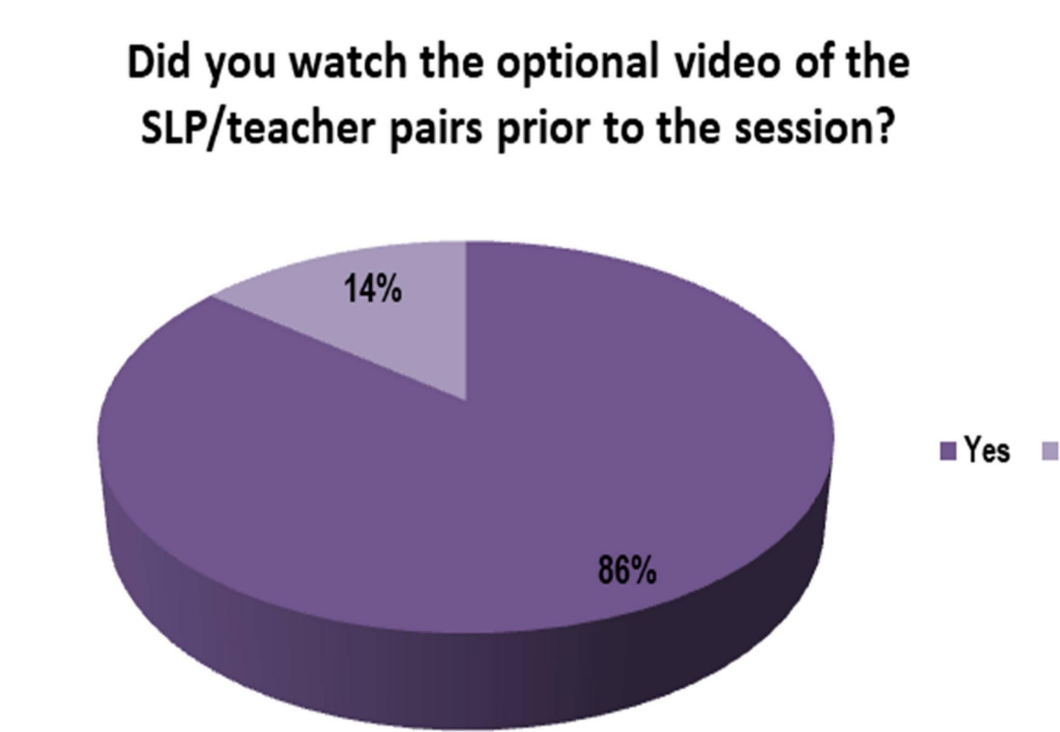

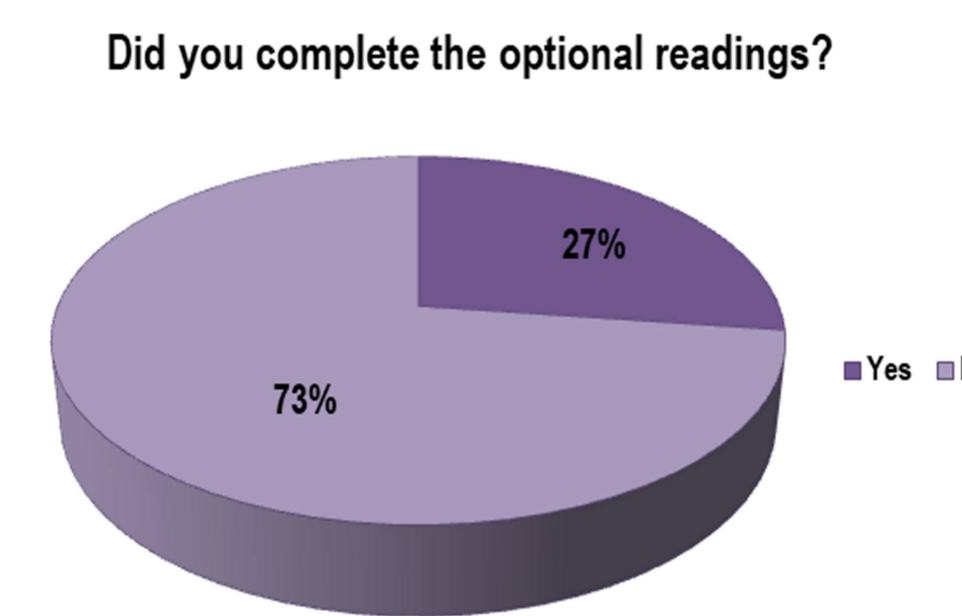

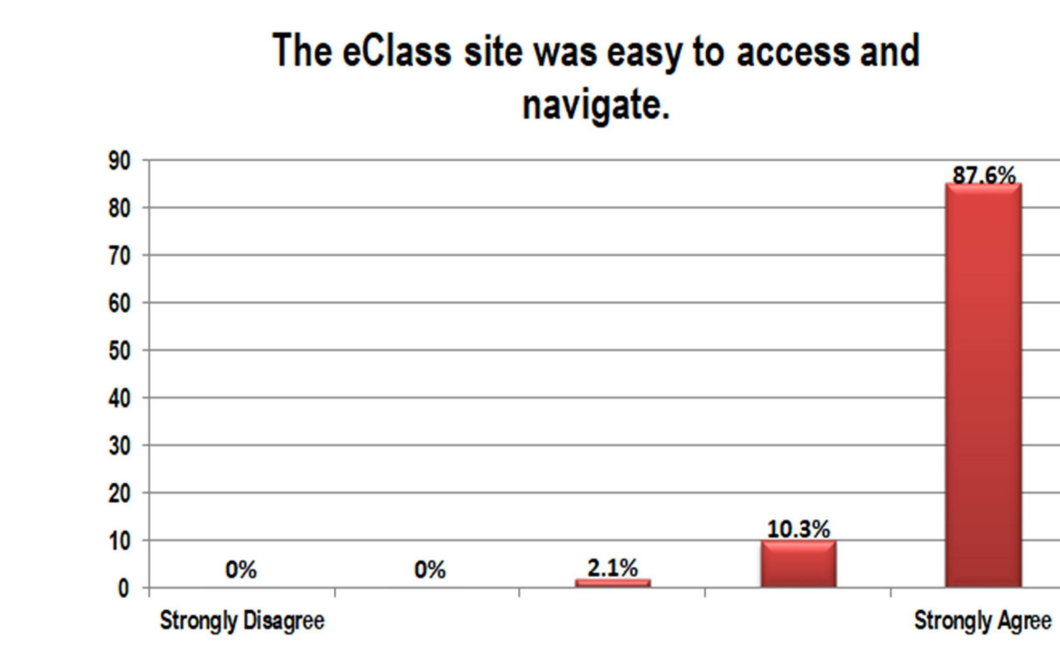

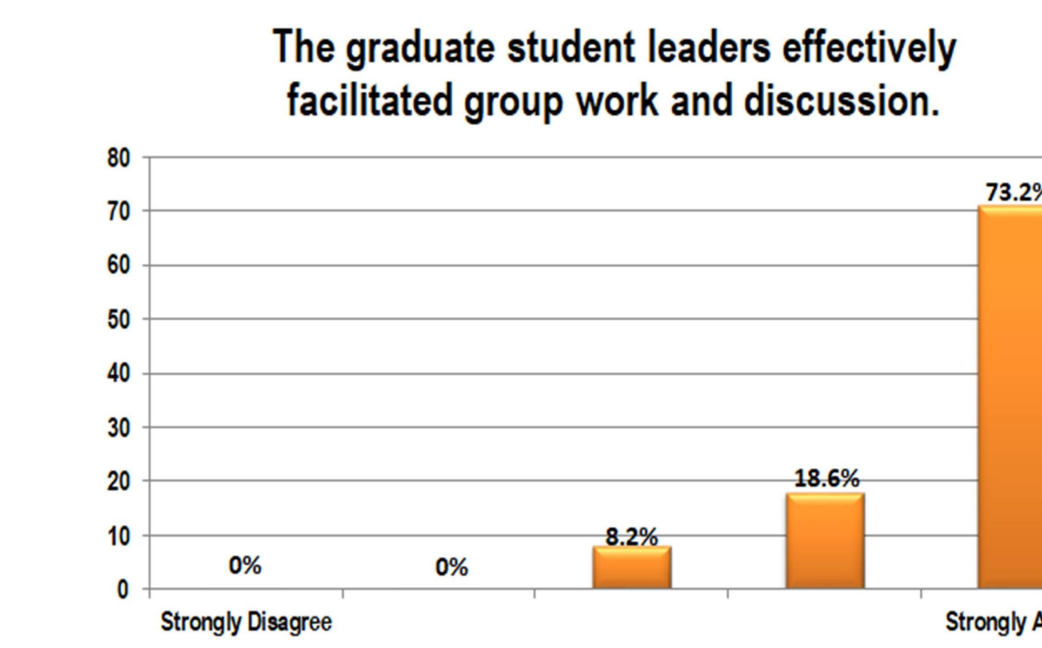

- Sessions led by graduate students as part of a CSD 900 Project
- 2 sessions with a total of 78 education students and 54 SLP students

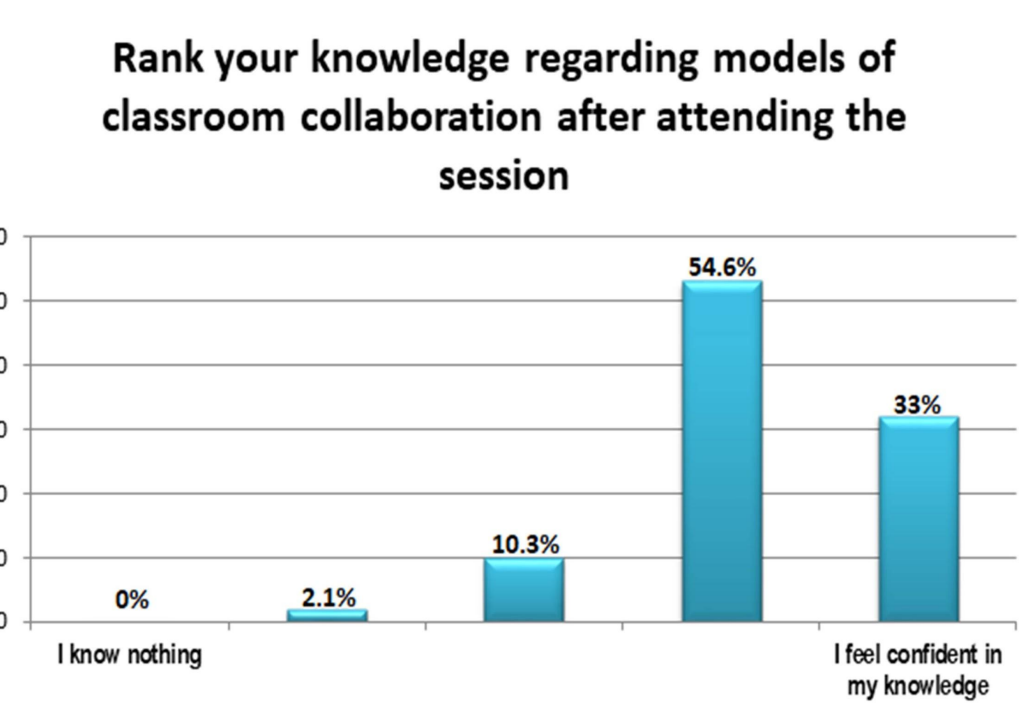

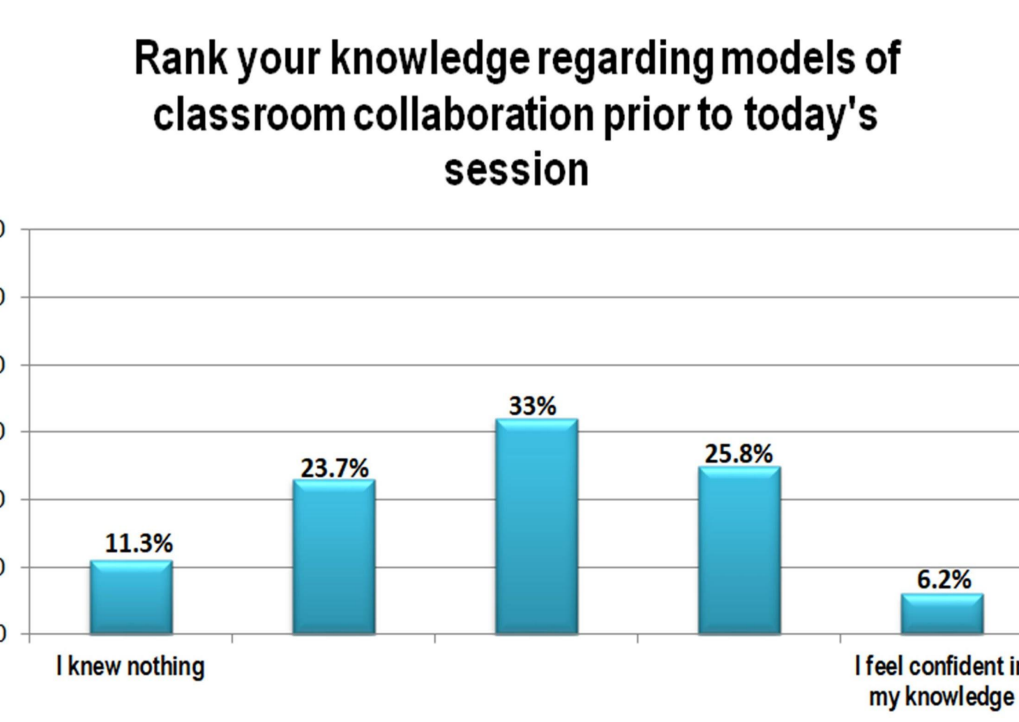

Module Evaluation (2018)

Selected questionnaire responses (n=97)

General Evaluation

Knowledge

Animation

Moving Forward...

- Update workbook format to be compatible with google drive
- Expand module to include other professions that work in schools (e.g. occupational therapists, educational psychologists, etc.)
- Continue to explore more engaging adaptations for the IPE using technology
- Investigate transfer of knowledge to the workplace
- Explore potential benefits of students teachers and student SLPs completing practicums together

Selected References

Hofmann, J. (2018). Blended Learning. Auburn Hills, MI: Data Reproductions Corporation.

Means, B., Toyama, Y., Murphy, R., Bakia, M., Jones, K. (2010). Evaluation of evidence based practices in online learning: A meta-analysis and review of online learning studies. U.S. Department of Education, Washington, D.C.

Suleman, S. (2012). Constructing collaboration across campus: Pre-professional and speech language pathologists and teachers working together. (Thesis). University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Suleman, S., McFarlane, L., Pollock, K., Schneider, P., & Leroy, C. (2013). Do students talk the talk?: A study of the use of professional vocabularies among student speech-language pathologists and teachers through an interprofessional education experience. Canadian Journal of Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology, 37(2), 146-154.

Suleman, S., McFarlane, L., Pollock, K., Schneider, P., Leroy, C., & Skoczylas, M. (2014). Collaboration: More than 'working together': An exploratory study to determine effect of interprofessional education on awareness and application of models of specialized service delivery by student speech-language pathologists and teachers. Canadian Journal of Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology, 37(4), 298-307.