POETICS is an interdisciplinary journal for publications in the field of theoretical and empirical research on literature, the media and the arts. It welcomes contributions which are theoretically based and empirically oriented. POETICS publishes not only advanced research reports but also overview articles. Occasional special issues, guest-edited by specialists, present the state of the art or discuss new developments in a particular field.

Some of the topics on which POETICS focusses are:

- the theoretical and philosophical foundations of empirical research in art and culture
- the processing of literary texts and other media
- the historical development and the function of institutions which display, promote and/or judge works of literature, the media and the arts
- the sociology of producers, distributors and the public regarding specific forms of art, information and entertainment
- the contribution from disciplines and fields such as sociology, cognitive psychology, linguistics, discourse studies, historiography, economics and media research
- techniques current in empirical research and relevant to the scope of the journal.

Manuscripts (three copies) are to be sent to the Editor. Please consult the Instructions to Authors on the inside back cover.

Special regulations for authors. Upon acceptance of an article by the journal, the author(s) will be asked to transfer copyright of the article to the publisher. The transfer will ensure the widest possible dissemination of information.

Submission of a paper to this journal entails the author's irrevocable and exclusive authorization of the publisher to collect any sums or considerations for copying or reproduction payable by third parties (as mentioned in article 17 paragraph 2 of the Dutch Copyright Act of 1912 and in the Royal Decree of June 20, 1974 (S. 351) pursuant to article 16b of the Dutch Copyright Act of 1912) and/or to act in or out of Court in connection therewith.

Special regulations for readers in the U.S.A. This journal has been registered with the Copyright Clearance Center, Inc. Consent is given for copying of articles for personal or internal use, or for the personal use of specific clients. This consent is given on the condition that the copier pays through the Center the per-copy fee stated in the code on the first page of each article for copying beyond that permitted by Sections 107 or 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law. The appropriate fee should be forwarded with a copy of the first page of the article to the Copyright Clearance Center, Inc., 27 Congress Street, Salem, MA 01970, U.S.A. If no code appears in an article, the author has not given broad consent to copy and permission to copy must be obtained directly from the author. All articles published prior to 1981 may be copied for a per-copy fee of US $2.25, also payable through the Center. This consent does not extend to other kinds of copying, such as for general distribution, resale, advertising and promotion purposes, or for creating new collective works. Special written permission must be obtained from the publisher for such copying.
