Parliamentary Outlook

House of Commons

- A deferred recorded division will be held on a Conservative opposition motion may be debated put forward by Pierre Poilievre (Carleton, Ont.), that, given: (a) the Liberal election platform states that "government and its information should be open by default" and "data paid for by Canadians belongs to Canadians"; (b) the Department of Finance has indicated that a federally-mandated carbon tax will cause higher prices to "cascade through the economy in the form of higher prices"; (c) such regressive taxes cause low-income people to bear a larger burden as heat, gas, and groceries form a larger portion of their family budgets; and (d) the Department of Finance has produced numerous calculations of the impact of these taxes on low and middle-income families, and their effect on the gap between rich and poor; an Order of the House do issue for a copy of the Department of Finance's documents titled "Impact of a carbon price on households' consumption costs across the income distribution" and "Estimating economic impacts from various mitigation options for greenhouse gas emissions," and any other documents that calculate the cost of carbon taxes on Canadian workers, businesses, and families.

In relation to the KPMG file, the CRA continues to take action on a number of fronts, including actively seeking further information through the courts. Mon, March 6, 2017

Liberal Party of Canada

Mary Ng has been nominated as the official Team Trudeau candidate for Markham–Thornhill in its upcoming federal by-election, after an open vote on Saturday by local Liberals at the Markham Event Centre. “I am incredibly honoured to have earned the trust and confidence of Liberals in Markham-Thornhill to represent them in this dynamic and diverse community and on Parliament Hill,” said Ng. “My goal is to spend the next several weeks of the by-election working hard to earn the support of voters to become the next Member of Parliament for this important riding.” Call 613-627-2384.

New Democratic Party of Canada

NDP MPs and Revenue and Finance critics Pierre-Luc Dusseault (Sherbrooke, Que.) and Alexandre Boulerice (Rosemont--La Petite-Patrie, Que.) are calling on the Liberal government to launch a full investigation into the KPMG debacle and the role of the Canada Revenue Agency. “CRA official refused to provide answers to the very important questions surrounding this tax-cheat scheme and so far the government has done nothing but protect KPMG and all those who benefited from this scheme,” said Dusseault. “The Liberal government must conduct a thorough investigation into this scheme and commit to ending these secret, penalty-free amnesty deals for tax evaders.” The full release is available online. Call 613-222-2351.

Equal Voice

Findings of a new national survey about Canadians’ views and perceptions of women in politics were released by Equal Voice and Abacus Data. Among them: people overestimate the number of women in politics; Canadians are more optimistic about how long it will take to reach gender parity; and many believe that parties must work harder to recruit women. Nancy Peckford, Executive Director of Equal Voice, stated, “Since, in fact, women occupy only 26% of the seats in the House of Commons, clearly there’s still much work to be done to educate Canadians on the systemic underrepresentation of women in Parliament, and other legislatures throughout the country.” Call 613-724-1518.

Oxfam Canada

Oxfam Canada has published its first annual “Feminist Scorecard”, tracking government action to deliver on a feminist agenda, both at home and abroad. The scorecard reviews actions taken and progress made since November 2015 on eight policy and spending categories that affect the lives of women in Canada, and world-wide. They include: representation, taxation, climate & natural resources, violence against women, care work, global development, jobs, and response to conflict & crises. Lauren Ravon, Director of Policy and Campaigns for Oxfam Canada, said: "All governments have a role to play in fighting inequality. With a Feminist Prime Minister and a government committed to inclusive growth, Canada is well placed to really push the needle forward on gender equality and improve the lives of women living in poverty. Government decisions can make a difference between women having good quality jobs or working for poverty wages. In many ways the government's feminist words have yet to translate into concrete actions." The full release is available online. Call 613-240-3047.

Deepak Obhrai for Conservative Leader

Conservative MP and leadership candidate Deepak Obhrai (Calgary Forest Lawn, Alta.) warns the Conservative Party that with the release of Conservative MP and leadership candidate Kellie Leitch's (Simcoe--Grey, Ont.) "Canadian Values" test questions for immigrants and visitors, the party will be seen as an Anti-Immigrant Party. He stated, "these are universal values encompassed by our laws. Ms. Leitch's proposal to screen every immigrant and visitor is nothing but Donald Trump's Executive Order, disguised as Canadian values, and crafted to keep Muslims out of Canada. Furthermore, these questions are pointless, and are an unnecessary bureaucratic and costly policy." Call 403-470-4020.

Erin O'Toole for Conservative Leader

Diane Ablonczy, former MP for Calgary-Nose Hill, announced her endorsement of Conservative MP Erin O'Toole (Durham, Ont.) to become the next Leader of the Conservative Party of Canada. Ablonczy stated, "I see in Erin the character, experience, skills and common-sense policies needed to re-energize and strengthen our party, and successfully lead us into the next election. He has excelled in high-level leadership roles outside politics, gaining broad experience as well as an understanding of different sectors. I've watched him wisely handle daunting challenges as Cabinet Minister, and admire his tremendous work ethic. Smart and focused, yet open and gracious, he is a proven problem solver and bridge builder." Call 416-399-7400.

Conservative MP and leadership candidate Erin O'Toole (Durham, Ont.) issued the following statement regarding the Liberal government's extension of Canada's mission in Ukraine: "Leaving the extension of UNIFIER to the last moment shows the priority the Liberals place on this issue. People are dying in Eastern Ukraine and the Liberals spent their first year trying to "normalize" relations with Russia. While I applaud the Liberals for extending this critical mission, this last-minute decision seems like an afterthought." Call 416-399-7400.

Brad Trost for Conservative Leader

Conservative Mp and leadership candidate Brad Trost (Saskatoon-University, Sask.) called on the Trudeau Government to reverse its decision to make an initial contribution of $20 million to a Dutch government-initiated global abortion fund, and to embargo any additional funding for abortion. Trost also asked all Conservative leadership candidates to support his call for a cancellation of funding. Trost stated, "I call on Justin Trudeau to reverse his minister's misguided decision to turn over $20 million of Canadian taxpayers' dollars to agencies which provide abortion internationally, including in countries where abortion is illegal. I ask all Conservative leadership candidates to support this call to cancel Canada's global abortion funding." Call 613-620-3000.
